COVID 19: Lockdown 20

India, the land of fortune, which we know as "sarejahan se accha" (better than the entire world), has been facing some unprecedented situations which has resulted in untold pain and misery for the entire people of the country. Firstly, on the 8th of November, 2016, the Indian government announced the demonetisation of all Rs. 500/- and Rs. 1000/- banknotes. In this, undoubtedly, the government had a noble intention to reduce the use of illicit and counterfeit cash to fund illegal activities and terrorism. However, certain adverse after-effects of this crucial event could not be avoided. This resulted in prolonged cash shortages in the weeks that followed causing the common people undergo a hard time. People had to deposit all the said currencies in the Bank. They had to stand in queues for hours in order to withdraw and deposit their own money. To add to their distress, the amount to be withdrawn was also restricted. In other words, people were in panic. Though all shared from this cup, it was the poor who bore the most direct and harsh brunt of it.

I would like to speak about another event which has caused far-reaching adverse effect in the lives of the people, especially the poor. The rich are somehow able to withstand the situation, but it is not really the same for almost 80% people of the country. Towards the end of 2019, COVID 19 started its journey around the world with a murderous rage. It shut and stilled life wherever it passed by. It did not spare India too. The whole nation had to undergo a sudden lockdown on the 25th of March, 2020. Unable to find an answer to this deadly virus, people went into arbitrary claims of chasing the virus through hot water and cow urine, which would strengthen our immune system.

During lockdown the general public was asked to stay back in their place of residence; only to come out for any essential services such as grocery, medical, hospitals which remained open for them. The Covid 19 pandemic has made the entire world stranded and India also has suffered the same. The spread was so huge that the World Health Organization (WHO) had declared it as a Pandemic because it is a disease prevalent over the whole of a country or over the whole world. Covid 19 might be the only pandemic which has affected the people almost of the whole world. It has affected practically 215 countries of the world. As it is reported so far that almost 9 million people in the globe have been affected by this deadly and highly contagious virus and the death toll in the world has surpassed over .49 million. It has changed the world upside down. The whole humanity is trembling with fear. Everyone wants to live on this earth longer but that is at stake.

India is a country of 1,380 millions. It is reported that the highest single day covid 19 cases in 24 hours is 16922 on Thursday, the 25th of June, 2020. The ill impact of this pandemic is visible in every sphere of life throughout the globe. The marginalized, migrants and daily wage earners were the main victims, especially, the women and children in India have been severely affected by the sudden lockdown. The prolonged lockdown from 25th March to 20th May and the travel bans added miseries to them losing their employment. It is reported that due to the lockdown 122 million people have lost their jobs. Because of the loss of income, many had to leave the place of work to avoid starvation. It is also noticed that thousands of people without money, food and shelter, crossing the country's high way to their home village on foot or by bicycle or cycle van carrying along with them their minimum belongings. This resulted in several accidents and death on their way. During the lockdown, our country has also witnessed a pregnant mother in Madhya Pradesh delivering her baby on the roadside while walking to her village. This incident reminds me about the misery Our Mother Mary had to undergo to deliver her only child Jesus our Lord (Luke 2:1-7). Long period of lockdown has brought the millions of people in the country below the poverty line, who struggling for the basic needs like food, shelter, medicine and other necessary things.

Lockdown has also rendered millions of people jobless. Poor people became poorer. Lockdown has led to a sudden and extreme economic disruption across the planet. It is possible that poverty and unemployment will give rise to acceptance of riskier or menial jobs by the adults. On the other hand, there will be the increase of child labour, Child abuse, human trafficking, flesh trade, labour trafficking, robbery and pickpockets. This may also give rise to forced labour or a type of bonded labour system. The collective morality is foreseen to be a handmaid of the 'need for money'. We all need to be alert. We need to be with the people to help them to overcome this situation. It is not only the concern of the country or concern of the Church but every individual has the responsibility to be supportive to the poor and marginalized people.

Gleanings from Raghampur Diary

The Lockdown and the devastating cyclone Amphan two months later has had a seismic impact on the Raghampur Mission, compelling us to face our essential frailty, participate in, and to some extent, help to alleviate the suffering of our people. Basic pastoral services have been restored (Baptisms, Funerals, Marriages, Home visits), with all preventive measures taken. Many of our people are yearning and praying for the day they will again receive the Body and Blood of Christ.

The School campus housed a considerable number of people during the Cyclone, and was used both as a Shelter and Relief Centre. Parents of our schoolchildren come for the mid-day meal distribution at monthly intervals, while the online classes started shortly after the Lockdown and disrupted by the Cyclone, have been resumed.

Relief work by our College, Parish, and the SVP, organized and shepherded by the Jesuit community, was able to reach 2,500 people, while repairs on close to 100 Amphan-stricken, shattered houses of our College students has been completed. The extraordinary generosity and collaboration of some members of our College Staff was an added motivation.

Kalahrdaya was not far behind. With the help of the Kerala Catholic Association, Kalahrdaya was able to reach out to a considerable number of families both locally and in far-flung areas like Kumrakhali and Rakhaskhali. It was mesmerizing to see both Fr. Saju and our new Regent Rakesh fully immersed in this much needed work.

The Raghampur community bid a fond farewell to Fr. Jothi and Bro. Jobin, and prepares to welcome three new members into our midst: Sch. Manu our Regent, Bimal and Dipak who will be the first Scholastics to study in the College. Our community will now comprise nine members, and with four in Kalahrdaya, we are the second largest Jesuit community in the Province.

Fr. Joseph has returned to the community after his enforced 'lockdown' at home and is already at work in the school. Fr. Pat has said farewell to Samarpan and after giving classes to the DSA Tertiaries in Gobrachok, will begin their Long Retreat from Monday 22nd June.

News from Paribar Jyoti

A Unique Ministry During The Lockdown

The lockdown brought untold suffering to the poorer sections of the society as many of them lost their only source of income while essential commodities were unavailable or the prices soared beyond their reach. The devastation caused by the severe cyclone, Amphan, made their condition furthermore deplorable. However many humanitarian agencies and many people of good will supplemented the effort of the government to alleviate the people's affliction.

What went unnoticed was the people's mental agony and anguish which added to the boredom of remaining locked up in the house for long and the sense of hopelessness due to the loss of livelihood as the saved up money was spent. With the damage caused by the cyclone destroying the already rattled self-confidence, the people became petulant, angry and all the more desperate. For want of any outlet with no possibility meeting even close friends they began to vent the pent up feelings on the family members.

It was understood that providing psycho-social support at the time was of paramount importance as much as or even more than providing material aid. The field workers and volunteers of Paribar Jyoti Counselling and Training Centre received many distress calls from individuals and families about personal desperation and severe family conflicts leading to domestic violence of different kinds which made the people all the more perturbed even to the extent of thinking of ending their lives and, in a few cases, actually attempting suicide.

As one man said, "I was totally distraught and feeling totally lost with no job, no money left and nobody was willing to lend. Then came the Amphan and a part of the roof of my house was blown off. With a piece of tarpaulin I managed to prevent water falling into the one room hut whenever it rained. I had no hope of repairing the roof in the near future for want of money. I expected my wife to understand the anguish I was going through. But she kept on shouting at me day and night. Her nagging affected me more than all the other problems. I could not endure it any longer. Finally I lost my patience and slapped her. She walked out of the house with my child of four and went to the police station. Fortunately, the animator of Paribar Jyoti had gone to the police station just that time about another similar case. She pacified my wife before she could file a complaint and brought her back home. Or else I would have been in the police custody now. The animator sat with my wife and me a few times separately and then together to sort out our problem."

The lockdown had its own impact on the children and particularly the youth. As they were missing their friends they tried to make it up by chatting and messaging on the phone which caused friction with the parents. The inability to go out of the house to cool down after a heated argument made it worse. The youngsters had no way to deal with the anger, hurt and guilt feelings as there was no one to understand them. Teenagers and parents living in one-room houses had additional problems. Those who were in love faced their own special difficulties with increased anxiety, misunderstandings etc. and no possibility of meeting the person to clarify the matter.

Keeping the rules of the lockdown the animators and the trained volunteers kept in touch with distressed couples and persons and helped them with telephonic counselling. In some cases personal counselling was necessary, maintaining the social distance. The total number of persons assisted so far has been 83, including couples and youth. Four were cases of attempted suicide. Many more had suicidal tendencies. Some cases of family breakdown needing many more interventions are in the process of being settled.

Bishop Shyamal Bose's First Anniversary of Episcopal Ordination

This day last year on 24 June 2019, along with the celebration of the birth of John the Baptist, we were privileged to welcome the birth of our new shepherd, Most Rev. Shyamal Bose. In the presence of both the bishops, Linus Nirmal Gomes S.J. and Salvadore Lobo, as co-consecrators, the then Rev. Fr. Shyamal Bose, as authentic son of the soil, was ordained Bishop of Baruipur by His Grace, Archbishop Thomas D'Souza of Calcutta. Since then one year has passed by like a blink of an eye. To commemorate the significant event in the chronicles of the diocese there was a thanksgiving Holy Eucharist in the Cathedral of Immaculate Heart of Mary and St. Teresa of Calcutta at 6:30 p.m. presided over by Bishop Shyamal Bose. Priests, religious and brothers of neighbouring communities were present for the occasion. In the beginning of the Mass His Lordship applauded the cooperation of priests, religious and laity in leading the diocese forward towards its integral development. In his homily he underscored the role of John the Baptist as precursor- one who prepares the way of the Lord. He emphasized that as the last prophet and first evangelist John the Baptist played a very vital role in preparing people to be opened and receptive to the Messianic tenets. He also exhorted the gathering to be courageous like John the Baptist in paving the way of the Lord by bearing witness to the values of Christ without counting the cost. Before the final blessing he acknowledged the gracious presence of all as a source of encouragement.

After the Mass there was a short felicitation followed by sumptuous dinner at Dishari.

Adieu to Sr. Consilia Varghese

*We little knew that morning
God was to call your name
And take you to His abode!
You who were ever ready
Calmly with a smile*

Our dearest Sr. Consilia Varghese, said goodbye to us on the dawn of 17th of this month. The news was so shocking and unbelievable. Sr. Consilia is not an unknown person to the diocese of Baruipur as she lived and worked in the diocese for more than 20 years. She started her life in the diocese in the year 1986 when the then Bishop Rt. Rev. Linus Nirmal Gomes, S.J. invited the Sisters of the Cross to serve the people of Baruipur. She lived in the old bishop's house till the convent was ready. She worked in PUS and rendered her service to the people in the farthest villages in the diocese. Meanwhile she was also given the duty of establishing in Baruipur the Provincial House for Kolkata province. She was elected as the councilor to Sr. Mercedes, our first provincial and was appointed as the bursar of the province and the Sister in-charge of the community. After a short break she returned to the diocese and did the spade work for establishing Holy Cross School, Baruipur. Her hard work and persistent effort became a boon to the people of Baruipur. As the first secretary of the school, she proved to be a good administrator.

God knew the heart of Sr. Consilia- her love for Baruipur diocese and the people of this place. He brought her back after a gap of few years. She was appointed in the school to render her service attending to the medical needs of the students in the school.

Being a lover of plants and animals, she brought up gardens in the convent and in the school, which were always studded with fruits and flowers. She kept the school ambience beautiful, clean, healthy and hygienic. Her compassionate heart over flowed with financial support to the poor and the needy especially the children. In the house she spent much of her time in prayer and taking care of the needs of every sister and the house. Her sense of responsibility, love for the congregation, fidelity to the consecrated life, accuracy and perfection in everything are praise worthy. Till her last she was on her feet doing the little things with a difference and it is those little things that occupy our hearts and experience her presence all around us now and forever!

Sr. Elsy John
Holy Cross Convent, Baruipur

Diaconate Ordination of Br. Sanjay Minj and Br. Amrit Ekka

On 17 June 2020 Oriens Theological College, Shillong gathered in prayer and joy to witness the Diaconate Ordination of 27 young brothers hailing from different dioceses and provinces of the region and outside. The newly ordained include Deacon Sanjay Minj and Amrit Ekka of our diocese, Baruiapur who joyfully and willingly received the Order of Diaconate.

The rite to the ordination took place during the solemn Eucharistic celebration at 2:30 p.m. presided over by Most Rev. Victor Lyndoh, Bishop of Jowai. In the spirit of faith His Lordship invited the congregation to pray that the ordained ministers of God may be clothed by the power of the Holy Spirit. He also invited the deacons to generously respond to the pastoral need and to the call they have chosen. During the homily he underlined the role and ministries of the ordained deacons in the church; to preach the word of God, to assist at the altar of the Lord and in the Church's sacramental life, and to engage in charitable ministry to the poor and vulnerable.

Rectors and superiors of neighboring institutions, priests and brothers from different study houses graced the occasion with their prayerful and encouraging presence. To mark the occasion the college had a festive look with the vivacious decoration, sparkling banners and glittering illumination all over. The melodious singing of the OTC choir, especially the Gregorian chant, made the liturgy of the day devotional and prayerful. Serving the delicious tea with homemade sweets was a happy conclusion of the ordination ceremony.

The diocese congratulates them on the reception of diaconate ordination and wishes them God's choicest blessings for their diaconate ministry.
